

Complaints and Response process - Engineers Without Borders Denmark (EWB-DK)

This document outlines EWB-DK's formal complaints and response process. We are committed to providing our stakeholders with safe, accessible and effective channels to exercise their right to raise complaints about EWB-DK's operations, and for a response or redress to be given.

Definition of a complaint

A complaint is an expression of dissatisfaction with a service, action, or behaviour on the part of EWB-DK or any of its partner organisations.

A valid complaint is one about actions for which EWB-DK and/or our partners are responsible, and must be both relevant to and within the control of EWB-DK and/or the partner organisation.

Both EWB-DK and its partners should be held accountable for the promises and the commitments we make, what we do, and how we do it.

EWB-DK cannot respond to a complaint about:

- Other organisations (except EWB-DK partners)
- Issues not related to our programmes
- Local or national government, local authorities, etc.
- Individual request for support outside of our programme/project activities.

For these types of complaints we should, in so far as we reasonably can, assist the complainant to make a safe referral to the appropriate body.

Who can make a complaint?

Individuals raising complaints about EWB-DK may include, but are not limited to:

- any staff member of EWB-DK or a partner organisation

Confidentiality

Confidentiality is a principle that restricts access to and dissemination of information. Confidentiality helps create an environment in which people are more likely to raise EWB-DK’s or complaints, or to stand in witness against bad practice or incidents of abuse. People might not raise EWB-DK’s if they fear reprisal or retaliation from EWB-DK or its partner or any other stakeholder in so doing.

Confidentiality ensures that information is shared on a strict need-to-know-basis with a limited number of specified people for the purpose of taking action. The procedures must ensure reasonable confidentiality and security of all relevant records and documents in compliance with the EWB-DK’s Personal Data Protection Policy.

Breaches of confidentiality will be taken very seriously and may result in disciplinary action against any staff member involved.

What happens after the complaint is made?

1. EWB-DK’s Secretary General will perform an initial investigation and of needed refer to Board of Directors who will establish a Complaints Management committee to review and acknowledge the complaint within ten working days on receipt of the complaint (two weeks).

2. We will send the complainant an acknowledgement of having received the complaint and give a date when the complainant can expect to be informed about the process being followed to handle the issue. Time frames for handling complaints will vary depending on their nature. We will keep the complainant informed throughout the process.
3. In the event that the complaint is about an issue that falls outside the control of EWB-DK, we will advise the complainant of this in the acknowledgement letter.
4. Depending on the nature of the complaint, the Secretary General or Complaints Management Committee will identify the appropriate person to provide a response.
5. If the matter can be resolved directly, the designated person will provide a prompt response.
6. If the matter needs to be investigated, appropriate people within the organisation will be appointed to conduct this confidentially. Only a limited number of persons who need to know about the complaint will be informed. Investigations will be carried out. In instances where appropriate action is required EWB-DK reserves the right to keep the action confidential.

What happens if the complainant is unhappy with our response?

Should the complainant not feel satisfied with the response received despite having had the opportunity to request further clarification or feedback, s/he can submit a formal written appeal directly to the administrative staff, who will pass it on to a member of Board, who has no involvement in the complaint or its management. The Board member will review the management of the complaint and determine whether it has been handled properly.

This can be done in writing by post marked "Confidential" to the EWB-DK Office or by email.

At this point the case will be reviewed, the procedures followed, the investigations conducted, the outcomes and the actions taken to date will be assessed. The Secretary General/Board member or by him/ her designated staff will respond and keep the complainant informed about the appeal process.

The response to an appeal is final in terms of the EWB-DK complaints and response process although the complainant might continue to pursue the matter legally.

Situations where EWB-DK will stop responding to a complaint

No complaint will be ignored and we will treat everyone who makes a complaint with courtesy and respect. In return, we expect complainants to raise their complaints fairly and appropriately. In cases where complainants harass staff, behave abusively or unreasonably pursue their complaint, we reserve the right to withdraw our investigation of their complaint. In all such instances, the complainant will be informed that we do not propose to consider further investigation, or correspond about, the complaint or any specific points raised in the complaint and the reasons for it.
